

HOROLOGICAL ACADEMY OF INDEPENDENT CREATORS

THE AHCI AT BASELWORLD 2019

Since 1987, AHCI has participated at Baselworld, the renowned and prestigious Swiss exhibition, as well as at many other watch fairs all around the world. This gives collectors, connoisseurs of authentic horology and the international press an opportunity to get in contact with the real watchmakers, who personally present their innovations and high-quality masterpieces. 2019 will mark the 32st year at Baselworld for our Academy.

Our goal is to perpetuate the heritage of horological art and also to promote this exceptional avocation where the young, talented watchmakers are granted a possibility to present and exhibit their creations by participating at the different watch fairs together with the members of the AHCI.

We are happy to announce that 8 of our exceptional watch and clockmakers will expose their chef-d'oeuvres at the AHCI's booth (Hall 1.1 Stand C01, Hall of Fascinations) along with 6 candidates and 3 new applicants for candidacy.

Last year, the members of AHCI took part in more than four fairs as representatives of the Academy and also at many small private events and exhibitions as single and independent creators. The latest models of high horology created by eight members and candidates were on display at the Watch Gallery organized by AHCI in Hong Kong and, soon after, at the China Watch and Clock Fair in Shenzhen. In October eleven of our prominent watchmakers were invited to present their creations at the Jewelluxe Singapore exhibition. In November, one of the UK's largest luxury watches fairs, Salon QP, opened its doors to the greatest creators of fine horology among whom were also eight members and candidates of AHCI.

2018 was very successful for many of the members, whose watches got many awards and prizes in different contests including one of the most famous GPHG.

Now, our horological academy counts 35 members, 9 candidates and 8 honorary members from 15 different countries.

The upcoming exhibition in Basel will be presented in the largest number of exhibitors over the past few years. You can meet our members, candidates and applicants at the AHCI booth and get acquainted with their timepieces.
